

AMINE ZAHRI

SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

Dear hiring manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in joining your organization as a Senior Project Manager or Project Director. With more than twelve years of experience delivering large-scale construction, industrial, and infrastructure projects across Morocco and internationally, I have developed a mature leadership style and a strategic execution mindset that align perfectly with the standards of major BTP groups.

Throughout my career, I have successfully delivered complex, multi-lot projects with high technical requirements and demanding timelines. My experience covers full-cycle project execution, contractor and subcontractor management, OPC/coordination, HQSE compliance, budgeting, procurement optimization, and logistics strategy.

I consistently deliver strong results, including leading over 1.2 Bn MAD of projects with 97% on-time delivery, reducing costs by up to 18%, developing teams of 80+ professionals, and strengthening HQSE compliance to 98%. I also implemented planning and reporting tools that significantly improved decision-making and site performance.

I bring a hybrid profile that combines technical engineering depth with strategic project leadership. I am confident that I can contribute to strengthening your execution capabilities, accelerating project delivery, and supporting your growth strategy.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my experience, energy, and commitment to excellence can bring value to your teams.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,
